

Private Security

If you are the owner, CEO or other high-level executive at a business or corporation, your safety and security is of the utmost importance to the continued success of your company. When you are placed in compromising situations, your entire organization is put at risk. The security officers at ESSC can protect you in any situation.

We provide comprehensive, low-profile security protection services for high-profile clients, in any location. The security officers at ESSC have the training & experience in local, national, and international settings. Our multi-linguistic abilities greatly help to provide you with protection services in a wide variety of environments and circumstances.

{xtypo_code}Request our services{/xtypo_code}